

Please join us for an interactive learning event,
THE POWER OF PLAY-BASED LEARNING FOR QUALITY EDUCATION

TUESDAY
NOV 21
2017

2:00 PM
TO
3:45 PM

CANADIAN MUSEUM OF NATURE

240 McLeod Street
Ottawa, ON K2P 2R1
(BARRICK SALON)

Right To Play is pleased to invite you to attend a fun and interactive session focused on the value of play-based learning for improving quality education. This is a celebration of the results from Play for the Advancement of Quality Education (PAQE), funded by Global Affairs Canada and the LEGO Foundation. This two-part event will begin with a demonstration of the power of play in action. Following that, an interactive panel discussion will bring together a diverse range of experts, including government representatives, philanthropic donors, academics and practitioners to discuss how quality education can be improved through the power of play.

PANEL PARTICIPANTS INCLUDE:

Sarah Wolman, The LEGO Foundation
Angela Pyle, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education
Priscilla Martey, Primary School Teacher from Ghana
Ernest Andrew Liyatona, Rwanda Education Board
A Youth Representative

Moderated by Micheal Montgomery,
International Institute for Child Rights & Development

rsup

RSVP by November 10, 2017 to events@righttoplay.com
For questions, contact mdersnah@righttoplay.com

Global Affairs
Canada

Affaires mondiales
Canada

RIGHT TOPLAY

The LEGO Foundation